And the winner is...
red dot award: product design 2010

Dear Mr. van Geer,

I am delighted to inform you with this letter that you are among the winners of this year's "red dot award: product design". Congratulations on this special recognition, also on behalf of the jury!

It is no secret how sought-after the "red dot" quality label is worldwide: this year approximately 1,636 companies from 57 countries have taken part with a total of 4,252 entries and have presented the internationally renowned expert jury with a difficult task. In the end, only the very best from the field of the top-class participants were selected.

On 5 July 2010 we will present you with your award at the glamorous awards presentation of the "red dot award: product design". You can already start looking forward to what will be an amazing highlight – we will send you your personal invitation at the beginning of June 2010.

Detailed information on how to use the red dot label, on the yearbook and all other services are provided for you in the enclosed brochure "Winner Services 2010".
